Repentance and Faith

The discipline of repentance does not bring warm and fuzzy feelings to our minds. We tend to picture someone with their head bowed down with red puffy eyes, overcome by regret. It is often a time where we beat ourselves up emotionally for not being good enough. Mostly repentance is associated with feeling bad and nobody wants to feel bad. As a result we miss out on the transformation that repentance is promised to bring us. While sorrow does and should accompany repentance, the Scriptures tell us that repentance is the only way to experience God's joy over us (Luke 15). It is the path to freedom (Gal. 5:1). If you want God's undivided attention and delight and his presence, start repenting! That's when heaven erupts in joyful applause (Luke 15:7,10).

Listen to these Scriptures: "I dwell with him who is of a contrite heart and humble spirit. I revive the courage of those with repentant hearts." (Isa. 57:15) Jesus says he will come and eat a meal of friendship with those who repent (Revelation 3:19-20). God, according to his Word, is irresistibly attracted to humble, repentant hearts (James 4:6). He can't stay away. He is actively scanning the horizon for those of us coming home (Luke 15:20).

In 1517, Martin Luther nailed his 95

Theses to the door of the Wittenburg Chapel. He wrote, "Our Lord and Master Jesus Christ, when he said, 'Repent!' (Matthew 4:17) willed the entire life of believers to be one of repentance." He was NOT saying that we must now live our lives feeling bad all the time. Luther was simply communicating that repentance is the way Christians make progress in their faith.

So what is repentance? Literally it means to turn. It is to be genuinely sorry for sin, to hate it more and more, and to run away from it.¹ It is to see and own our law-breaking and hatred of God lying underneath our actions (Psalm 51:1-3). Most of us stop there, when we must keep traveling on the road of repentance to our final destination: our Father's house. Conviction of sin is not a permanent stay at a Holiday Inn. Acknowledge what was done to God, and turn and look at His face. You may object, "I can't! I feel awful! God is too good and I am not. I am undone!"

Isaiah had a similar experience. He saw God and couldn't look up. A guy who talked about God for a living confessed that he had not said anything good his whole life. He fell apart. That's when the blood of the Lamb touched his lips and he was told, "Look, your guilt is taken away. Your sin is atoned for." See, the other side of repentance is faith. There, by faith, we are shown the Lamb of God who takes away the sin of the world, Jesus Christ, crucified for you. By faith in our resurrected Savior we are treated by God and accepted as if we had never done anything wrong. It is faith in the Son of God that sets us free, inviting us into the party thrown for us by our Heavenly Father who is thrilled that we have come home.

As Jack Miller, former pastor at New Life Presbyterian, pointed out, "...repentance is a form of sanity. There is nothing so healing of the mind as a clean break repentance which comes when one stands before God, your Father, without any excuse-making or blame-shifting."² Have you experienced that kind of sanity and freedom?

There will be pain involved. Some days it is hard to look in the mirror and see what God sees: His child who got himself into trouble again. But, the result is joy; which happens to be a fruit of the Spirit (Gal. 5:24). Remember, repentance and faith go together. Do not separate what God has joined together! They are the means by which we are made to look more like Jesus, as we confess together that we need help. May God in his kindness lead us to be a repenting church! (Romans 2:4)

National Day of Prayer Service Wiswall Park, Ballston Spa By Sally Jenkins

2016 marked the 65th anniversary of the National Day of Prayer and this year there were eight of the Ballston Spa area churches that participated in the community prayer service. This year's theme was "Wake Up America." Of the sixty or so people that gathered to pray, nine of our Hope Church family members attended and were blessed by the commitment that was shown to be praying for our nation. Pastor Nate specifically prayed for the church, and other local pastors prayed for the family, business, education, media, the military and the government.

It is evident that Christians in America need to wake up, and it was a blessing to see that we could be united in prayer regardless of our various denominations and church affiliations. It is my prayer that even more people will be able to attend this prayer service when it takes place next year.

Camp Hope's Racing to Read in Rio

A big summer activity that the whole church can get behind is Camp H.O.P.E., our week-long community reading camp, August 8-12! Our first meeting was May 23, but we still need lots of volunteers. Anyone who is interested can still come to other meetings and share ideas, learn about the program, find out what help is needed, and become part of the team. The event we have been involved in for the last few years to generate interest in this program is the Ballston Spa Family Fun Day, which will be on June 26th. The church has a booth and we hand out brochures and tell the families we see about this incredible reading camp we hold here at the church. [We need more helpers to assist with the events of this day.] Please speak to Melanie.

There are so many ways you can help! The Camp H.O.P.E. team needs a lot of prayer. We will need volunteers to put craft projects together. We need help decorating. We need donated items. Throughout the month of June there will be announcements about specific items we may need to get started. We look forward to making this year's Camp H.O.P.E. the best year yet with your help!

Summer is fast approaching! The weather has surely been unpredictable but the days move ever on toward the end of school. June 26 will be the last day for children's Sunday School. I hope that parents have been able to go over Sunday School lesson papers with their children and use them for further devotionals or for family discussions. If you have used them to help your child think further about our Bible heroes at home, please let me know what your family does. Just leave a note in my church mailbox. I'd love to share your ideas with other parents. I'd also like to know what you think of how Sunday School is impacting your children. Are they eager to memorize Scripture and share what they've learned? How have you encouraged this? I'd love for you to share your ideas and how you motivate your children. Your ideas could help other parents with motivating their children. Maybe you need ideas. Let me know. The Sunday School teachers and I would love to work with you to best help your children with motivation to continue Bible learning at home. With summer coming we want to help you keep your children learning even as they enjoy vacation.

I want to help you get to know Peregrine Perkins a little better. He goes to Joseph Henry Elementary School in Galway, New York. Peregrine is eight and was born on March 25, 2008. He is currently in second grade and his favorite subject is Math. Interestingly, his favorite food is French Onion Soup. His favorite sport is soccer and he is involved with playing soccer as well. Zacchaeus is his favorite Bible character. Star Wars, Harry Potter, and Legos are special interests to him and his favorite book right now is Harry Potter and the Prisoner of Azkaban.

Worship While You Wait: Recap from the Women's Retreat By Hannah Mailloux

The Ladies Retreat took place at The Cornick's and was well attended both Friday night and Saturday by a diverse group of women. For many women, it was a first-time experience, which added to the impact of the memories made.

The theme of the retreat was to worship while we wait, and many of us could relate because we were all waiting for something in our lives. During small groups and even on Friday night, we shared our aches and our fears with each other and prayed together. Further bonding was encouraged when we cooperatively broke a speed record for chopping veggies, fruits, and other goodies for Saturday's salad and pizza buffets.

On Saturday, we enjoyed an original skit written by Melanie Combs and performed by four of the committee members to help us visualize what it means to worship while we wait. Then we played a game prepared by Jill Galarneau, which involved waiting to receive something. Each item came with a fun question that the receiver had to answer. It was a great way to lighten things up and encourage some laughter.

All in all, the ladies retreat was just as described: a retreat. A time of refreshment and restoration, to build each other up in strength and peace: an intentional time, only lasting until we all returned to our respective battlefields.

I know that I and many others will be looking forward to the next time we can all come together in support and solidarity. But until then, I also know that the relationships that have grown through this experience will comfort us as we persevere.

Thank you to all who sacrificed time, energy, and resources to put this wonderful event together!

Waiting: From the book Streams in the Desert

by Mrs. Charles Cowman
Submitted by Kirsten Whitehead

“Must life be a failure for one compelled to stand still in enforced inaction and see the great throbbing tides of life go by? No, victory is then to be gotten by standing still, by quiet waiting. It is a thousand times harder to do this than it was in the active days to rush on in the columns of stirring life. It requires a grander heroism to stand and wait and not lose heart and not lose hope, to submit to the will of God, to give up work and honors to others, to be quiet, confident, and rejoicing, while the happy busy multitude go on and away. It is the grandest life ‘having done all to stand.’” --J. R. Miller

“Waiting is much more difficult than walking. Waiting requires patience, and patience is a rare virtue. It is fine to know that God builds hedges around His people—when the hedge is looked at from the viewpoint of protection. But when the hedge is kept around one until it grows so high that he cannot see over the top, and wonders whether he is ever to get out of the little sphere of influence and serve in which to understand why, he may not have a larger environment—hard for him to ‘brighten the corner’ where he is. But God has a purpose in all His holdups. ‘The steps of a good man are ordered by the Lord,’ reads Psalm 37:23.

“When we learn to wait for our Lord's lead in everything, we shall know the strength that finds its climax in an even, steady walk. Many of us are lacking in the strength we so covet. But God gives His full power for every task He appoints.” —S. D. Gordon

But they that Wait upon the Lord shall Renew their strength;
they shall mount up
with wings as eagles;
they shall run,
and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint.
ISAIAH 40:31

Practicing Hospitality

By Rae Whitehead

One of the joys of our sojourn at Hope (which has been-- oh my!--almost 40 years long) has been “having people over after church.” To do so seemed pretty natural, as both of us grew in homes where hospitality was a normal part of life. Often we would spontaneously invite new- or old-comers, and pick up a pizza or have hotdogs. Other times, we’d plan ahead for company, and just be available for visitors to the church or for old friends.

There are so many ways to be hospitable! For a few years, we collaborated with two other couples who lived too far away to take folks home with them after church. They’d help with the food and the company, and we provided the place to eat! Other families would have pancakes every Sunday, and invite a different gathering each week. Sometimes people use the church facility to get together over a meal. Occasionally, we get to know people better by taking them out to a local restaurant for brunch after church. Often it’s more practical to have them over during the week or on Sunday evening.

Lately I’ve found myself less eager to have people over. Partly because I’m just plain TIRED after doing whatever responsibilities I have every Sunday. Here I identify with young families who have enough to think about just to get everyone out the door and in the car on time! We are a small fellowship and many of us feel over-worked on Sundays, even though our “work” is a joy and a privilege! We often have family members who don’t go to our church and with whom we want to fellowship on Sundays. There are lots of barriers to hospitality, among them fear of what others may think (that’s a biggie for me), lack of resources and time to prepare, busy schedules with kids’ games and other activities. Nevertheless, hospitality IS important! The Bible mentions it often, as in Romans 12:13, 1 Peter 4:9, Hebrews 13:2, 3 John 8. Even Job had an open-door policy (Job 31:32)! William Barclay wrote: “Christianity was, and still should be, the religion of the open door.” (Quoted in The Hospitality Commands, by Alexander Strauch.) Let’s encourage one another in this area! It’s so important for newcomers to feel welcomed and loved. What better way to invite them into our fellowship than to take them home with us! We have single folks and widows among us who usually eat alone and who appreciate feeling part of a family. We have folks who travel at least an hour to come to church, who would probably love a sandwich before heading home! Remember, we ARE a family because we belong to Jesus’ family!

In April Nate, John, Jeff, Norm and David attended a leadership seminar. Many workshops were available, among them one on hospitality. They brought back with them a small book by the seminar speaker, Alexander Strauch: The Hospitality Commands. It’s a helpful and convicting little book and contains a three-part study guide as well as lists of other resources about hospitality. It is available in the church office. “And let us consider how we may spur one another on toward love and good deeds” Heb. 10: 24.

We Support a Local Food Pantry

Contacts: David and Rae Whitehead

Yes, the baskets in the south corner of the church foyer are there to collect donations to the community food pantry, which is located in Christ Episcopal Church at the southern end of the Village of Ballston Spa. It is open M/W/Th/F from 10:00 to 12:00 and Wed. evening from 5:00 to 6:00. (A note of historical interest: the pantry was begun by Lori Johnson’s mother, Valdine, in 1988!)

The large donations to the pantry (food bank, Hannaford, Panera, food drives) do not include toiletries. Food stamps also do not include such items as soap, shampoo, toothpaste and brushes, toilet paper, pampers, personal items. Therefore, we would appreciate it if you could donate those items and place them in the baskets in the foyer. Thank you so much!

Summer Recipes

It's spring—and that rhubarb is flourishing! You can only make so many strawberry rhubarb pies—so here's a recipe for

Rhubarb Coffee Cake

Submitted by Rae Whitehead

1/2 c. butter
2 cups sugar, divided
1 egg
1 tsp. vanilla
1 tsp. baking soda
Pinch of salt
2 cups flour
1 cup sour cream
2 cups raw rhubarb, diced
1/2 tsp. cinnamon

- Grease and flour 9-by-13 inch pan. Heat oven to 350 degrees.
- Cream butter. Add 1-1/2 cups sugar and beat until light and fluffy. Add egg and vanilla. Cream thoroughly.
- Combine dry ingredients. Add to butter mixture, alternating with the sour cream. Fold in rhubarb. Place in prepared pan.
- Combine remaining 1/2 cup sugar with cinnamon and sprinkle over batter. Bake for 35 to 45 minutes.

These Three Submitted by Bethany Thompson

Chia Jam

1/4 c. chia seeds, ground
2 c. frozen fruit (or 3 c. fresh)
2 tsp. maple syrup

*I usually use berries and when using fresh may need to add some water to assist with blending.

Combine all ingredients in a food processor. Process until desired texture/chunkiness. Pour into storage container and let sit in fridge over night. Taste and adjust sweetness. To make thicker, add more chia. To thin, add some water.

Cookie Dough Bites

1 cup. Almond meal
1/4 c. coconut oil, softened
1/4 c. pure maple syrup
6 T almond butter
2 t. vanilla extract
1/4 t. fine sea salt
Dark chocolate chips (as needed)

Combine all ingredients (except choc. chips) in the food processor until a uniform dough is formed. Scoop onto parchment paper. I usually make balls that are one tablespoon big. Press chocolate chips on top. Freeze for 1 hour. Store in freezer.

Grandpa Samson's Rhubarb Pie

2 c. sugar
6 T. flour
2 T. tapioca
2 eggs, beaten
4 c. chopped rhubarb

Mix first four ingredients together, fold in rhubarb.

Pour into double crust pie shell
Bake @ 400 degrees for 35-50 minutes
Let cool and serve.

H.O.P.E. for Seniors Are Active

By Marybeth Gibbins

Who is that gray-haired person glaring back at me in the mirror? Some of us are afraid to admit who it is; others are more than willing to accept that “Rite of Passage” and the golden opportunities ahead. Aging is all about living. For some, it can be more challenging than others. It also brings new expectations and possibilities for how we live and enjoy life. In today’s world, aging is much different than it was for our parents or grandparents.

The H.O.P.E. for Seniors group has a full calendar of events waiting for all those who are 60 and older. We have enjoyed many activities already this year and have plenty more for us to look forward to.

After church on April 3rd, a group of us headed to Corinth for a Maple Syrup Tour and pancakes. Fran Jenkins, a member of H.O.P.E. for Seniors, was a participant at the event and was explaining to the crowd how maple syrup is processed. We all had a wonderful time.

Our group has some pretty good Wii Bowlers, and has started a Wii bowling tournament. At the end of our tournament in June we will be going to a nearby restaurant, (TBA) to enjoy a bowling banquet. After the banquet, we will be returning to the church for our award ceremony and dessert.

We are having a wonderful time hearing about our members’ hobbies and/or collections. DeAnna Smith was kind enough to teach us how to make useful items out of none other than duct tape! Some decided on wallets and some coupon holders; others selected to watch.

Upcoming Events on our Calendar

June 29th	Wii Bowling Banquet and Award Ceremony
July 6th	Captain JP Luncheon Cruise—cost is $35. Please let Marybeth know if anyone is interested in joining us. Money needs to be collected no later than June 12th.
July 13th	BBQ picnic at Marybeth’s with a Hawaiian Luau Theme
August 3rd	Annual Picnic at Moreau State Park
	November and December are our fundraiser months
December	Putting a float in the Ballston Spa Christmas Parade

Come join us! We are always looking for new members and new ways to enjoy life to its fullest. Our regular meetings are held the 1st and 3rd Wednesdays of every month.

Old Folks are Worth A Fortune

(submitted by Anne Mastro)

Remember, old folks are worth a fortune, with silver in their hair, gold in their teeth, stones in their kidneys, lead in their feet, and gas in their stomachs. I have become a little older since I saw you last and a few changes have come into my life since then. Frankly, I have become quite a frivolous old gal. I am seeing five gentlemen every day. As soon as I wake up, Will Power helps me out of bed, then I go to see John. Next, Charley Horse comes along, and when he is here he takes a lot of my time and attention. When he leaves, Arthur Ritis shows up and stays the rest of the day. He doesn’t like to stay in one place very long so he takes me from joint to joint. After such a busy day, I’m really tired and glad to go to bed with Ben Gay. What a life!

P.S. The Preacher came the other day. He said at my age I should be thinking about the here-after. I told him, oh, I do that all of the time. No matter where I am, in the parlor, upstairs, in the kitchen or down in the basement, I ask myself “What am I here after?”

H.O.P.E. for Seniors Prepare for their Fundraisers

These events will be taking place around the fall holidays, but it's always wise to get a head start.

Operation Christmas Child

As last year, we will be participating in Operation Christmas Child —Samaritan's Purse.

"The most important thing you can send with a box is prayer."

-Franklin Graham, president of Samaritan's Purse

It is never too early to start collecting things for your shoebox. To make it easier for some folks this year, if you wish, you will be able to purchase a shoebox that is already decorated. All you need to do is fill it with your items and return it. Be looking for our Operation Christmas Child booth being set up in the foyer as early as September.

Our 1st Annual Cookie Walk

This fundraiser is being organized to let Ballston Spa know that Hope Church would like to be involved in the community and to let them know where we are located. To do so, we need your help baking lots of Christmas Cookies! A committee is being formed and tasks are being delegated. With this event being well publicized we expect the Christmas Cookies to be sold to the community here at Hope Church sometime in December. All the proceeds from this fundraiser will be donated to Birthright of Ballston Spa. More info on this fundraiser and how you can help will be coming soon. If you would like to help, please give Marybeth a call at 885-8563.

What's Happening in Ballston Spa?

By Rae Whitehead

Did you know that the Ballston Spa Business and Professional Association is an organization of "volunteers working to make Ballston Spa a great place to live, shop, dine, stroll, and stay"? And did you know that it does not just include business people? Many community groups, volunteer agencies, churches and residents from all over (not just the village) belong to the BSBPA—and so does Hope Church! Ellen Motolla, administrative assistant and only paid member of the organization, puts together a newsletter every month (The Volunteer), which our Sally posts on the bulletin board in the foyer of the church, and which you can access at ballston.org. Because the church is a member, we can advertise up-coming events at Hope Church in The Volunteer and at the BSBPA table at the Farmers Market in Wiswall Park.

There's a lot going on in Ballston Spa this summer! Here are a few events you can put on your calendars. For a more complete listing, look at The Volunteer.

Farmers Market, Wiswall Park: Beginning June 16 Thursday (3:00-6:00) followed by Concerts in the Park Saturday (9:00-12:00), with live music and children's activities

Free Movies in the Park, with free popcorn and cotton candy provided by Northstar Church:

June 3: Inside Out

July 1: Minions

August 5: Cinderella

Networking Breakfast: Third Tues. of every month June 21: 7:30-8:30 at Curtis Lumber Company

Village-Wide Garage Sale Weekend: June 11 and 12

Family Fun Day at the Fairgrounds: June 26 (Camp H.O.P.E. will be advertising there!)

Saratoga County Fair (175th annual!): July 19-24

Enjoy your summer in Ballston Spa—and wherever you live!

Gideons Go To Buffalo

By David Whitehead

From April 25th through the 27th I had an opportunity to be part of the Gideon "Buffalo Blitz." The Gideons International, an interdenominational organization over 100 years old, places Bibles in the hands of all kinds of people all over the world. (During 2015, Gideons placed 87,000,000 Bibles in two hundred countries.) Throughout the year, "Bible Blitzes" are held in many cities.

The Buffalo Blitz involved about forty men from other areas coming together in Buffalo, N.Y. to hand out Bibles at colleges, public schools, nursing homes, police and fire stations and hotels. We are given the freedom to do this in public areas because of the Constitution's Freedom of Speech amendment.

Several other Gideons and I handed out Bibles at Canisius College, an elementary school, and several police and fire stations in downtown Buffalo. At the elementary school, we first checked with the principal to explain what we were doing, and we showed him the document that shows that we have the right to pass out Bibles on the public sidewalks. As the children came out to get on the buses, we offered them small Bibles which contain the New Testament, Psalms and Proverbs. I was overwhelmed by their response! The children and even some of the bus drivers wanted Bibles. There was such joy and smiles on the faces of the children. It is God through His Spirit who will make a difference in the lives of these children and the other people who accepted the Bibles. The Word truly is "living and active" (Heb. 4:12a)! It is "a lamp to [our] feet and a light to [our] path" (Ps. 119:105).

More About Waiting Patiently...

From Bread for the Journey

By Henri Nouwen

Being patient is difficult. It is not just waiting until something happens over which we have no control: the arrival of the bus, the end of the rain, the return of a friend, the resolution of a conflict. Patience is not waiting passively until someone else does something. Patience asks us to live the moment to the fullest, to be completely present to the moment, to taste the here and now, to be where we are. When we are impatient, we try to get away from where we are. We behave as if the real thing will happen tomorrow, later, and somewhere else. Be patient and trust that the treasure you are looking for is hidden in the ground on which you stand.

From: Seeking the Kingdom

By Richard J. Foster

The tongue is our most powerful weapon of manipulation. A frantic stream of words flows from us because we are in a constant process of adjusting our public image. We fear so deeply what we think other people see in us that we talk in order to straighten out their understanding. If I have done some wrong thing (or even some right things that I think you may misunderstand) and discover that you know about it, I will be very tempted to help you understand my action.

Silence is one of the deepest disciplines of the spirit simply because it puts the stopper on all self-justification. One of the fruits of silence is the freedom to let God be our justifier. We don't need to straighten others out.

Extend God's Hope

To the Congregation of Hope Church

Redeemer Reformed Church in Queensbury is celebrating their 25th Anniversary Weekend with a luncheon at Giovanna's on the Lake (Lake George) on August 13th at noon. Rev. Tom Holliday will be speaking and reservations need to be made by July 9th.

The worship service on Sunday, August 14th at 10:30 will be held with previous pastor, Rev. Mark Bell preaching.

Further details for reservations for the banquet are on the bulletin board in the Hope Church foyer.
